LuNcHoLOgy®

Lunch bags that Educate, Entertain and Inspire

Don't just write a message on your child's napkin in their lunchbox....let the bag speak too! Mom Kristi Thomas spent a few moments every morning decorating her daughters lunch bag, sometimes including an inspirational phrase, sometimes a brainteaser, sometimes a joke, always to the delight of her daughter....and her classmates. Turns out, the bags were such a hit that kids wanted to take them home with them. This inspired mom to create her own company, LuNcHoLOgy®, which provides lunch bags in all themes imaginable, from sports and jokes to learning foreign languages and are geared to different age groups as well. LuNcHoLOgy® Lunch Bags make great teachers gifts, stocking stuffers and holiday office gifts. And, just for babynewsbits.com subscribers, purchase 4 sets of bags and they will give you the fourth set free plus they will update your shipping to Fed-Ex ground for free. Also, a special coupon will be included with your purchase to be used in 2008. Just use coupon code: "Holiday" www.lunchology.com

Baby Legs

Functional Fashion Trend

Baby Legs are being seen on A-List babes of Hollywood's finest. The fabric doesn't come all the way up to the waist like a tight but is more substantial than a leg warmer allowing for both ease of movement and comfort. And, they're perfect for winter when pants sometimes ride-up exposing little legs to the elements. As a mother of a crawler, they are perfect to help protect my sons little knees on wood floors and tile. Check out their website for an exhaustive collection of prints and patterns and also "Jack and Jill" gift sets.
